AMA

AMERICAN MEDICAL ASSOCIATION

November 20, 2012

Kelly Regan Receives Top Award at AMA Research Symposium

Kelly Regan was the overall winner[1] for her research titled:

"Expression-anchored Gene Ontology Signature Predicts Clinical Outcome in Lung Adenocarcinoma Patients[2]"

"The work of Kelly and the other young physicians and medical students shows us that the future of medicine looks very bright," said AMA President Jeremy A. Lazarus, M.D.

1- Regan received the award in in the clinical outcomes and health care improvement category. More than 600 abstracts were submitted for consideration this year.

2- Yang X, Li H, Regan K, Li J, Huang Y, Lussier YA. Towards Mechanism Classifiers: Expression-anchored Gene Ontology Signature Predicts Clinical Outcome in Lung Adenocarcinoma Patients. http://128.248.3.165/publications/FAIME-Lung/FAIME-AMIA-21-nomarks.pdf